KENNEDY DEAD

Police Question Possible Suspect

The police are questioning one suspect, a white man in his mid-twenties, of slight build. Dressed in a red sweater with black, curly hair, he weighs approximately 150 lbs. and is about 5'10," according to reports.

According to garbled reports, two men and one woman were seen scrambling off a walkway near the fatal area.

The sniper may have fired from a building which was immediately evacuated. Police found remains of a fried chicken dinner in the building indicating that the murderer had been there for some time.

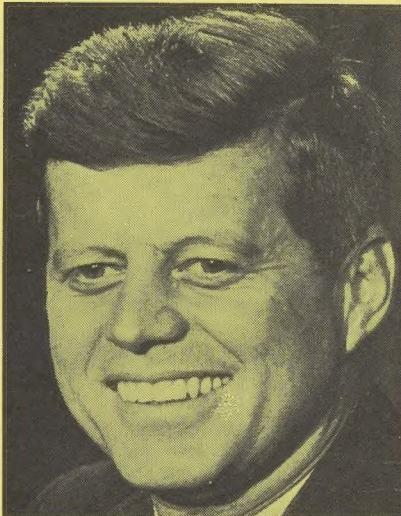

A Dallas television reporter said he saw a rifle being withdrawn from a window on the fifth or sixth floor of an office building shortly after the gun fire.

A rifle was found on the fifth floor staircase of the building near the area of the assassination. It was in the chamber, three shells were dead on the floor.

Student Registers Shock At Tragic Assassination

John Kennedy was shot by an assassin in Texas after going there as a political speaker. He had been met by crowds of hecklers and freedom-fighters at the airport. His death is a great shock to a country earlier skeptical and not so sympathetic. THE BROADCAST was thrown over the public-address system in the Library, and was greeted by deathly silent groups of students gathered around the speakers.

As the broadcast was finished and the students returned to their various places their faces were ashen, their steps slow and reflective and their breath loud and heavy. Most were visibly shaken by the news and I'm sure that many followed the advice of the Senator "If there was ever a time when Americans need to pray, it is now."

Shot Near Underpass

President Kennedy was shot in the right temple. "It was a simple matter of a bullet right through the head," said Dr. George Burkley, White House Medical Officer.

The shooting occurred as Kennedy and his wife, riding with Gov. Connally and Mrs. Connally, were riding in the White House "Bubbletop" Limousine through a crowd of 250,000 people in downtown Dallas.

As it neared the triple underpass leading toward the Trade Mart where Kennedy was to address a lunch, three bursts of gunfire sounded.

Senator Yarborough, riding three cars behind the President said two of the three shots fired came from the right rear.

As Mutual Radio, KIXX, broadcasted the news of the President's tour in Texas and his assassination, bewildered students and faculty gathered in the basement of the Clark Student Service Center, listening to the report which began minutes after the episode was reported.

Dallas Crowd Views Scene of Shooting

President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Jr., 35th President of the United States, died in the Parkside Memorial Hospital at 12:40 p.m. in Dallas, Texas, from an assassin's bullet.

He died at 12:35. He lived 35 minutes after he was shot. HE WAS GIVEN emergency blood transfusions and received the last rites from two priests of the Roman Catholic Church who came out of the emergency room and told reporters that the President was dead of his wounds.

The President, cradled in his wife's arms, was rushed in his blood-spattered limousine to Parkland Hospital and taken to an emergency room. An urgent call went out for neurosurgeons and blood. The President was conscious as he arrived at the hospital. Father Huber from Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church was called and administered the last rights of the Church.

Terribly shocked at the death of President Kennedy, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was whisked off under heavy guard to be sworn in as the 36th President of the United States.

Governor Connally, also in the President's car, was shot in the chest and head. He was conscious and spoke to an aide in the hospital. He is reported in critical condition.

The President's body is being flown to Washington. Mrs. Kennedy rode in the ambulance bearing the body of the late president. She was calm and composed though obviously dazed.

Stunned at the shock of the news of the President's death, campus concern was great as students stood numb, listening intently and discussing quietly the effects which the assassination will have on the entire nation and world in this time of political terror.
